

CRISIS CENTER YOUTHS WILL BE SLEEPING EASIER

DESIGN/BUILD: Lee Construction Management

LOCATION: Miller Beach, Gary, Indiana

Male youths in crisis situations will soon be able to rest a little easier thanks to the construction of a new, much-needed bedroom facility at the Crisis Center of Northwest Indiana.

Lee Construction Management is currently in the process of constructing a 9,989 square-foot addition which will include 17 beds and 10 bathrooms. These will all be utilized by boys in the 8- to 16-year-old range.

The Crisis Center is a comprehensive human services agency with seven programs for youth, adults, and families all over the Northwest Indiana area and beyond.

The new wing will also feature a 16,000 sq. ft. activity room, a laundry area, and general congregation space.

LCM is installing a 51-space parking area and an outdoor basketball court as well. The extensive project is scheduled for a fall 2010 completion.
